Reading Alfresco!

Sophie from McCarthy Class had the great idea of setting up a place for children to read outside at lunchtime. We sourced a wide range of books to suit all the children's preferences and Grainger kindly supplied some picnic rugs.

It really is proving quite popular and wonderful to see children engrossed in books by themselves or reading to each other.

Birthday Books

Parents often ask if they can bring cakes or sweets to school for their child's birthday. As we need to be careful of allergies, this is not possible. An alternative idea was suggested by a parent which was donating a book to your child's class on their birthday. It could be your child's favourite book and you or they could write a message inside the front cover as a memory.

Superstar Readers

Check your doorstep on Friday 27th May! There is a Superstar Reader nominated in every class at the end of each half term. Who will it be next?

The Reading Awards for consistent reading will be given out this week. It is so important for all children to read regularly at home in addition to in school.

Book Recommendations

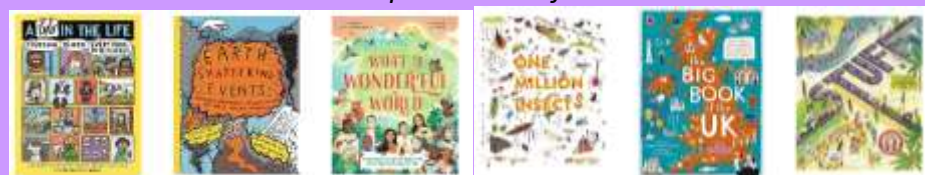

'Books for Topics' have updated their recommended booklists which always contain some fantastic reads! If you're looking for some new ideas on books for your child to read or for you to share as a family, take a look at the website! To make searching easy, books are organised into ages, year groups and topics. You might be interested in:
